

Trusting What We Cannot Figure Out

A Reflection on Trusting God's Plans

Reflections Prayer, Repentance and the Spiritual Life WhatsApp post, 14 June 2025

There is no way we can work out the economy of salvation. We are given to understand only what is right for us to know, and that is done in His time. We will never have answers to some things. We are made simply to place our full trust in His plans and His actions, and to live by it.